Global Elderly Care Services Market

Executive Summary

The ageing population needs attention as well as affection from family members as well as society to lead a convenient life. Elder care is the fulfillment of specific necessities and requirements that are specially to be meant for senior citizens aged 65 and above. Elderly care focused on various social and personal requirements by the older population to live a convenient and quality life. Elder care services include rehabilitative therapies, skilled nursing care, palliative care, and social services as well supervision and a wide range of supportive personal care provided by family caregivers or home healthcare agencies.

Senior citizens need support with routine actions as well as healthcare requirements to lead a quality life. Due to all these requirements there emerged a market known as 'elder care services market' which specifically came into existence to serve the ageing population worldwide. Elder care services market has been divided into various segments. In-home care, assisted living and home healthcare segment of senior care market are getting popularized day by day and provide quality life to senior citizens.

Global elder care market has exhibited growth in the past few years. The primary reasons behind the growth of the market are growing aging population globally, rising demand for quality life by senior citizens, positive government regulation in healthcare segment to provide cost-effective medical treatment to the aged population, advancement in senior care technology, and rising prevalence of chronic conditions among aging population. The market is anticipated to attain a modest growth in the forecasted period. Global elder care services market continued to expand at a swift pace from 2018-2022.
